Joining Dates May–July 2026

Core Coding Components in These Tests:

- Aptitude + Logical Reasoning (standard in all tests)
- Coding Questions:

Data Structures (Arrays, Strings, Linked Lists, Trees)

Algorithms (Sorting, Searching, Recursion, Dynamic Programming)

Pseudocode-based questions (Capgemini, Cognizant)

- Hands-on Programming:

C, C++, Java, Python

- Game-based Aptitude:

Capgemini, Wipro

Advanced Coding (GENC Next, Turbo, TCS Digital)

Competitive level DSA

Key Preparation Platforms:

- TCS NQT: TCS iON PrepHub
- Wipro/Infosys: Hackerrank, Infosys InfyTQ platform

- Accenture: CoCubes / SHL platform
- IBM: HackerRank / AMCAT
- Capgemini/Cognizant: AMCAT / CoCubes
- Multi-company Prep: AMCAT, eLitmus, CoCubes, SHL

1. TCS iON NQT

Test: TCS National Qualifier Test (NQT) – includes cognitive, aptitude, and coding sections.

Eligibility: Final/pre-final year graduates (2020–2026 batches)

2025–26 Cycle:

Registration: June 10–24, 2025

2. Wipro NLTH

Full Form: National Level Talent Hunt

For: Engineering graduates seeking SDE roles

Test Format:

Aptitude (quants, verbal, logic)

2 coding problems (60 minutes)

One written communication/essay

NLTH 2025 dates not announced yet

Based on past cycles: registrations typically open Aug–Sept, with exam late Sept–Oct

3. IBM GBS / GTS

Two separate streams:

GBS = Global Business Services

GTS = Global Technology Services

Process:

Recruiter phone screening

HackerRank online coding test

Technical + HR interviews

Expected Cycle:

Hiring windows typically Aug–Nov 2025 for 2026 batch

Prep campus for aptitude + Hackerrank test, followed by multiple virtual interview rounds

4. Other Testing Platforms (AMCAT, CoCubes, eLitmus, etc.)

Companies often shortlist candidates based on combined scores from TCS NQT, AMCAT, CoCubes, etc.

Walmart and similar firms may use these assessments, followed by their own coding rounds and interviews
